Allowable Subject Matter

The following is an Examiner's statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

Applicant(s) claimed invention is directed to a method of preparing dimethyl carbonate, comprising: reacting methanol, oxygen, carbon monoxide, and a catalyst to form a mixture comprising dimethyl carbonate, methyl chloroformate, hydrochloric acid, water, carbon dioxide, and carbon monoxide; and subjecting said mixture to conditions comprising a water concentration a methanol concentration, a temperature (T), and a residence time (t), such that a parameter X calculated according to the expression has a value less than about 0.9, wherein said water concentration and said methanol concentration are expressed in moles per milliliter, said temperature is expressed in degrees Kelvin, and said residence time is expressed in minutes.

The claimed invention is also directed to other methods of preparing dialkyl carbonate and dimethyl carbonate by subjecting said mixture to specific conditions such as temperature and time as well as additional parameters as claimed.

The crux of the invention lies in the discovery that unexpected corrosion of downstream sections of a dialkyl carbonate manufacturing apparatus due to alkyl chloroformate impurities, which slowly decomposes to yield hydrochloric acid may be eliminated by employing the methods as discussed above within the parameters as claimed. Such has neither been anticipated by nor made obvious from the prior art.

The art of record demonstrates other methods of removing HCL and other copper halides salts methods in the art which do not, however, contain the specific steps, reactants and parameters as mentioned and neither avoid the problems commonly associated therewith.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the Issue Fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the Issue Fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
